

Rapid Introduction of Participating Cities and Organizations

Batch 3

TNC

Rob McDonald, Lead Scientist for Cities and Joel Paque, Policy Lead for Cities

- Asunción, Paraguay, United Nation Development Programme
- Veronique Gerard and Maria Irene Gauto
- Programme officer / Technical Manager
(Asunción ciudad verde – vías a la sustentabilidad)
- Website Address <http://www.py.undp.org/>
- Email veronique.gerard@undp.org / maria.gauto@undp.org

- Asunción, Paraguay, Ministry of Environment and Sustainable Development
- Isabel Gamarra de Fox
- Biol. MSc Biodiversity and Conservation/Mammology
- Website Address <http://www.mades.gov.py/>
- Email isabeldefox@yahoo.com

- Main undertakings in:

- (i) Green Urban Development

- MADES resolution that gives the specifications for an urban green corridor

- (i) City Biodiversity

- Studies carried out on biodiversity in Asunción (bird inventories, mammal monitoring)

- (i) City Natural Capital Accounting and Nature Based Solutions

- Creation and management of protected areas at the urban level

- One key reflection and lesson learned in the area:

- ☐ Paraguay has good experience in biodiversity surveys but little in natural capital accounting. However the data on biodiversity in the city is not exhaustive.

- UNITED NATIONS INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT ORGANIZATION (UNIDO)

Biodiversity and ecosystem services

- At city level:
 - Integration of biodiversity conservation and maintenance ecosystem services into urban planning and development
 - Development of green infrastructure and preservation of nature based solutions to address water management, air pollution, urban heat island, etc.
- At enterprise level:
 - Green roofs
 - Sustainable urban drainage systems
 - Urban farming

Features:

- Largest global database of urban activities with nature
 - Over 1300 locations
 - Compiles data from 26 programs
- Available as a map, table, and guide

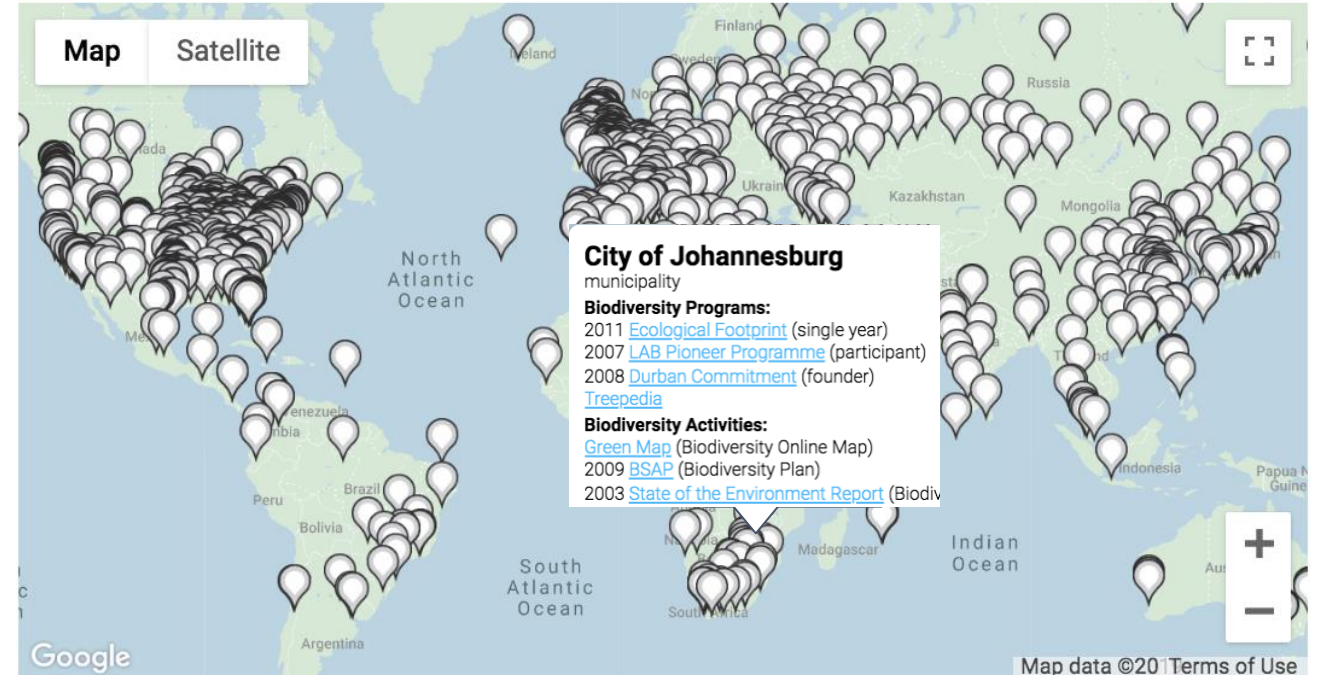

Advantages

- Showcase your initiatives
- Locate comparable activities
 - Links to plans and policies
 - Filter by density, biome, etc.
 - Highlight by program
- Compare indices and other programs

- WWF
- Tabaré A. Currás/ Global Advisor Urban Energy Transitions
- Energy and Climate
- <http://wwf.panda.org>
- tabare.curras@wwf.se

- Your organization's main undertakings in:

- (i) Green Urban Development:

- Theme: transparent reporting, peer reviewed evaluation and feedback on holistic (mitigation and adaptation) climate strategies.

- E.g.: the One Planet City Challenge (OPCC) and its method to align to 1.5°C, evaluation framework that emphasize evidence-based climate action planning and approach to tailored made action-oriented advice.

- Alliances: ICLEI and CDP.

- (i) City Natural Capital Accounting and Nature Based Solutions

- Themes: sustainable infrastructure, resilience, natural capital, disaster risk reduction and response

- E.g. (Alliances): improved framework for pre-feasibility, “upstream” infrastructure planning (GIZ) / Natural Capital Project (TNC, Stanford, University of Minnesota, Chinese Academy of Sciences, Stockholm Resilience Centre) / Flood Green Guide (USAID and the Army Corps of Engineers) / Green Recovery and Reconstruction Toolkit (Red Cross) / Landscape Finance Lab (Climate-KIC) / African Ecological Futures (AfDB and UN Environment) / National Platform for Sustainable Cities and Climate Change in Lima (IADB, MINAM).

- One key reflection and lesson learned in the area:

- ☐ Green and resilient urban development must take place within the context of larger regional or landscape-scale spatial plans.
