Mobilab+ is a space of São Paulo City Hall to experiment and promote intelligent solutions to the city's problems. These activities are held in a building downtown, and it is able to host almost 60 developers and collaborators. Mobilab+ is the first public co-working space in the country. There are three main priority areas in this project: ecosystem activation, public and open innovation, and open data for innovation, which promotes the interaction between public administration technicians, the third sector, startups, and universities. This creates an ecosystem that integrates knowledge and experience of different organizations to develop technological solutions. Find more information here.

During the visit, participants had the chance to visit FabLab, which is a network of public laboratories - spaces for creativity, learning and innovation, accessible to anyone interested in developing and building projects.
